

My Dream for the World

by Kite Lin

To sprinkle helpfulness around my school
To tumble my way out of the dark
To paint the bad out of everything
To sketch peace onto the world
Then rewrite something someone did wrong
To get a second chance

While the day comes, I'll create fun
While night comes, I'll rewrite the stars to constellations

To kick away bullying
To splash nice comments
To rise goodness
To stop pollution
To clean my neighborhood and city
To clean wars that happened before
To reunite family and friends
This is my dream
