

John Lunar Richey

My Fondest Memory of Miguel

Miguel Algarín shared with everyone his robust love for life. My fondest memory is drinking with him in New Brunswick, taking the Amtrak party car to NYC and a taxi to his apartment. Then accompanying him to St Mark's Church where he read with Allen Ginsberg.

Miguel was a funny, engaging, soulful poet and I will never forget him.

John Lunar Richey joined Andrei Codrescu for an erotica reading at the Nuyorican Poetry Cafe. Lunar also plays both acoustic and electric with the Lunar Ensemble. Lunar's poetry and prose - 4 books total are published by Iniquity Press/Vendetta Books.
